He Urges the Aldermen to Give All Pacilities to See the Parade.

The Troubles of the Committee and a Correction from Mr. McAllister.

Ward McAllister was reported yesterday as saying that Mr. Gerry's argument against the appointment of Mayor Hugh J. Grant to preside at the banquet was that the latter " hadn't got brains enough to run the speeches."

With that spirit of fairness which has all along characterized Mr. McAllister's course with regard to his enemies, he desires the public to know that he was not accurately reported in his Statement about Mr. Gerry.

What Mr. Gerry did say when he found that he was about to be supplanted by the Mayor for the position of presiding officer and toast-master of the banquet was not that Mr. Grant "hadn't brains enough to run the speeches," but that he was "not qualified by intelligence to fill the seat and position."

These, Mr. McAllister says, are the very words

Mr. Gerry used to him, and the Commodore wil undoubtedly accept them as the true version o undoubtedly accept them as the true version of the story.

Couched in such elegant and sonorous terms his opinion of the Mayor, he believes, could not be offensive to the latter, and will call for no such explanation on his part as he was forced to make yesterday in the Chief Magistrate's private office.

While no one outside of the Mayor and Mr. Gerry knows exactly what took place at that secret interview, it could not have been altogether pleasant for the latter, for when he came out of the Executive Chamber and hurried away to his office it seemed to be in a completely flustrated condition, while his cheeks vied with his scarlet neektie in brilliancy of coloring.

Shrawd guessers around the corridors of the City Hall ventured the opinion that if a competition of brain power had been going on inside the Mayor had certainly not come off second best, an opinion that was greatly strengthened by the calm and placid demeaner of His Honor when he made his appearance in the outer office a few minutes afterwards.

AN INTERLECTION BUMGE. MR. GERRY'S VISIT TO THE MAYOR

AN INTERESTING BUMOR.

The latest rumor is that Mr. Gerry, finding that the heat of the Summer season is advancing much too rapidly for comfort as well as health, is having his yacht put in readiness for a long cruise and will start immediately for some quiet and secinded giscial field on the picturesque coast of liaffir's lay.

Any mention of the Centennial celebration makes him exceedingly tired, and his acquaintances have been specially warned to make no allusion to the banquet of the Four Hundren in his presence.

allusion to the banquet of the Four Hundred his presence.

Just now he is trying to remember who the fellow was who first induced him to go into the scheme to quelch McAllister.

He haif suspects that it was Stuy Fish, but his memory has been so confused by the exciting events of the past two days that he can't be quite sure of it.

BTUY IN SOMETHING OF A BOX HIMSELY. Then, too, Stuy is in just as bad a box as him-self, for, as they joined forces to jump on McAl-lister, the shock of the collision was equally damaging to both. Stuy has as much reason to complain as he, and mutual recriminations would hardly do more than aggravate the soreness of their bruises.

M'ALLISTER'S ENERGETIC RICKS. The fact is, Mr. McAllister knows so much more than they thought he did and is willing to tell some of it, too, that the entire dominitee is kicking itself for treating the leader of the Four Hundred with such lack of courtesy and common politeres.

politeness.

Mr. McAllister, being a master of etiquette, sees the advantage which he has over his opponents from a social point of view, and he does not hesitate to use it, but within the bounds of not heritate to the associal usage.

He assumed a quiet, defensive attitude as long as he could do so without injustice to himself, but when open attack became necessary he took the aggressive with such effect that the ranks of the chemy were disorganized at the first attack and completely routed at the second charge.

MR. FISH'S MANIFESTO.

MR. PISH'S MANIFESTO.

Bituy Pish was so shaky all day yesterday that he was afraid to trust himself out at all, even in the warm sunshine, but sat in his private library in Gramercy Park with a stonographer formulating his manifesto, which appears to-day.

It is intended to break the effect of the McAllister assault, and after repeating the ancient charge that the leader of the Four Hundred failed to appreciate his position and source of authority, it goes on to make the claim that the Chairman, Mr. Fish himself, was the inventor and sole originator of the plans for the ball and banquet, and that Mr. McAllister had nothing whatever to do with them.

In support of this claim it is alleged that Mr. McAllister had not attended but one meeting of the Entertainment Committee prior to Docember, 1888.

THIS IS AWFUL.

Mr. Fish in his remarks to outsiders also ought to detract from Mr. McAllister's preten-ions by alluding to him contemptuously as a "mere caterer" and "the majordomo of the There caterer" and "the majordomo of the committee."

To these insinuations Mr. McAllister replies with his accustomed blandness, and adds that they amount to nothing at all, for "Mr. Fish is very small potatoes anyway.

As for the claim that the plans for the ball were not his, the idea was too ridiculous to deserve serious attention. If his plans were discarded, why, that settled the ball.

WHOLESALE DRAFTING OF TYPEWRITERS.

Additional explanations are expected to-day from the Messrs. Gerry and Fish, and all the stenographers and typewriters over at the headquarters in the Stewart Building have been drafted temporarily into the service of the two managers of the celebration.

of the two managers of the celebration.

THE ROUTE TO BE CRANGED.

There is very little doubt that the Army Committee at its meeting to-night will change its mind about the route of the procession and decide to go up around Union Square.

The hotel proprietors at Union Square are willing to bear all the expense of putting up the stands which, with additional structures all around the Square, will accommodate 84,000 people. THE BUREAU OF PUBLIC COMPORT.

THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE has discussed the question of establishing a Eurean on Public Comfort, as suggested by The Evening World, to take care of or rather give information to strangers in the city during the celebration, and it is expected that the bureau will be in working order in a few days.

A number of people call every day at the Stewart Building and offer the Committee rooms in their house, and several have offered entire furnished houses for the celebration week.

A LIST OF ROOMS AND HOUSES.

In every case the Committee has taken the names and addresses of these applicants, and they will be placed first on the list as soon as the Bursau is opened. Some of the hotel keepers are interested in the scheme, and the assistance of the Police Department in securing lists of respectable boarding-houses has been promised by Supt. Murray. MAYOR GRANT AND THE PEOPLE'S COMPORT.

Mayor Grant to-day sent a communication to the Board of Aldermen, recommending the pa-sage of an ordinance allowing the erection of stands by private individuals, from which a view of the Centennial parades may be had, as follows:

To the Heavrable the Board of Alderstan.

Numerous applications for special permits have been made by different persons to enable them to erect platforms along the line of march of the Centennial procession. These permits have been refused. I deem it makes to grant special favors where a general and uniform rule is possible.

The fact of these applications, coupled with the reasonableness of the wish of householders to be accorded facilities for an observation of the procession, which

I therefore deem it my duty to call your attention to the propriety of adoption by Your Honorable Boarder's general ordinance permitting the occupants of balldings along the line of the Centennia procession to street platforms within the space reserved for areas and courtyards, attending to the stoop line.

This call does not have a bound be a bounded by law. The stands which would be rected would be no obstruction to travel and their terms.

This call does not have a bounded by law. The stands which would be rected would be no obstruction to travel and their terms.

The members of the Washington family have been not inconsistent with the public character of the streets.

DURATION OF THE FLATFORMS.

While it is important that such an ordinance should be passed it is equally important that it should be so worded as to clearly provide: First, that the platforms as eracted shall be temporary—that is to say, they set to remain only thering the discovered of the state of the content under the direction of the Superintendent of Buildings, and, third, that persons causing the eraction or platforms shall alone be responsible for any damages resulting from such precious. AN ORDINANCE SUGGESTED.

I urge the early passage of an ordinance worded as fol-I arge the early passage of an ordinance worded as follows:

Resolved. That permission be, and the same hereby is, it will be the owners and occupants of buildings located on the route of the procession commemorating the contenna's of the inauguration of George Washington as President of the United States, April 30 and May 1, 1889, to place platforms inside the stoop-inee in from of their respective buildings from which to view the procession, en condition that no charge of fee shall be charged for admission to such platforms that such platforms shall be erected or constructed at the expense of such owners or occupants, under the appearsion and direction of the Superintendent of Buildings, who shall have power to issue such permits; that the corporation of the City of New York shall be harmless from any less or damage that may occur or arise from the expectise of the priviage hereby granted, or any portion or part thereof; and that the permission given shall continue only from the "State" Agont.

Accompanying the above was the following: Board of Alderman, dr.

In a communication of this date which I addressed to your Honorable Body I called your attention to the propriety of the passage of a resolution giving to the occupants of buildings along the line of the tentamia procession the privilege of erecting platforms within the stoop lines, that they might be the better enabled to witness the procession and fitly commemorate the great TRUCES SUGGESTED, TOO I now direct your attention to the propriety of facilitating the observation of the parade by those living away from the line of march. The mest practicable way to extend to such persons such additional facilities is by according to them the privilege of placing trucks along the curb lines of stream the privilege of placing trucks along the curb lines of stream times in the facilities in the hine of march. Such tracks will afford good points of observation. They are procurable by the comparatively poor and available by those-remote from the line of march.

A CHANCE FOR EVERTBODY.

My desire is that every person in this city should have an opportunity as tar as it may be possible to witness the procession on that day. Fo the extent that we are able it is pismity our duty to do what we tan to bring the pageant under the observation of all who wish to see it. In a ropublic like ours the most impressive feature in any popular display is the presence of large numbers of the people.

There is a solomnity in their free and spontaneous appearance in large numbers, which can never be given to any demonstration by the mere presence of organized bodies acting under orders from some central sutherity. From all parts of our city the people should be present, not marely as spectators of a pageant moving before their syes, but as participants in a demonstration unequalled in size and commemorative, of one of the most stirring events in the bistory of non.

Another Good Ondersace. A CHANCE FOR EVERYBODY.

ANOTHER GOOD OBDINANCE.

ANOTHER GOOD OBDINANCE.

Scarcely a notable payade in the history of the city has taken place without the wagons of the poor occupying positions adjacent to the line of march, filled with a pertion of our population who, but for their presence, would have been unagle to have witnessed the display, I fibe unbroken usage of the past with reference to trucks should on this occasion have the sanction of authority. The people of this city should be made to feel that, so far as it lies within the power of the local government, every effort will be made to promote their ownjoyment upon that great occasion.

I, therefore, arge the passage of an ordinance worded as follows:

I, therefo.e, urge the passage of an ordinance worded as follows:

Resolved. That permission be and the same hereby is given to place trucks along the curb lines of streets intersecting and adjacent to the line of march of the procession commemorative of the contemnal of the innegaration of George Washington as President of the United States, on April 30 and May I. 1889. For the use of persons desiring to witness such procession, and for no other purpose, such trucks to be placed close to the curb lines, and on two or more trucks to be placed adjoining each other; such trucks to be so placed only after permission obtained from the Superintendent of Police, who is hereby given hower to issue permits for such purposes, conditioned upon the city of New York being held harmiess of and from any less or damage which might arise from the exercise of the privilege granted.

THE STAND ORDINANCE ADOPTED.

The ordinance allowing the crection of stands by private individuals was adopted on motion of Alderman Divver.

Judge Henry Hilton announced to Alderman Walker to-day that not only can the Board of Aldermen occupy the space surrounding the Stewart palace at Thirty-fourth street and Fifth avenue for a reviewing-stand, but that he will build the stand at his own expense if the privilege is granted.

THE ALDERMEN SAW THE JOKE A request from the "McSwyney Four Hun-red" to erect a wooden annex to Delmonico's ired "to erect a wooden annex to Delmonico's in Twenty-sixth street, to accommodate the large crowd which will attend the banquet to be given by that select organization on the evening of April 30, was presented to the Board of Alderinen to-day.

Permission was also asked to carry a bridge across Fifth avenue to connect a dance pavilion to be erected in Madison Square Park, where the Metswynys propose to dance the "cotilion d'honneur."

The Aldermen saw the humor of the prop tion, but as they had some Centennial axes of their own to grind the petition was laid over.

BOME POLICE ARRANGEMENTS.

The police arrangements for breserving order at the reception to be given to the President and Governor at the Equitable Building have been perfected.

Supt. Murray, accompanied by Inspectors Byrnes and Williams, visited the Equitable Building yesterday afternoon and met a committee consisting of Mesers, William G. Hamilton, Floyd Clarkson, Samuel Borrowe and Major L. Curtis Brackett.

They investigated the premises and decided where to station the men, and promised that a sufficent force would be on hand to keep the streets and building clear on the day of the reception.

THE RECEPTION TO THE PRESIDENT. Provisions were also made for the reception of the Presidential narry at the foot of Wall street. The Superintendent visited and inspected the wharf with the Committee, and platoons of police will be disposed in such a manner that South street will be kept clear for two blocks above and below Wall street. Wall street itself will also be cleared for the procession.

TO BE DRAWN BY MILE-WHITE STEEDS. The President's carriage will be drawn by four milk-white horses in silver harness. There will be one driver on the front sent in white and silver livery, and two footmen in the same livery will ride behind upon the rumble.

Po thions and outriders will not be a feature of this parade, as in the first inauguration 100 years are. years ago.

MR. FISH WILL RIDE WITH THE PRESIDENT. In the carriage with the President will sit Gov. Hill and Hamilton Fish, the President of the Hill and Hamilton Fish, the President of the Centennial Committee.
Other carriages will contain ex-Presidents Cleveland and Hayes, the members of the Cabinet, the General of the Army and the Admiral of the Navy. They will ride in open landaus, with single drivers in each and without footmen.
In the naval procession up the bay it is expected the police local Fatrol will precede the United States steamer Despatch, bearing the Presidential party.

WORK ON THE METHOPOLITAN ANNEX. Under permit of the Department of Public Works a forcefol 200 men at 4 o'clock this morning began work on the annex to the Metrapolitan Opera-House for the use of the ball and banquet, and by 8 o'clock the work was practically finished. The annex is to be fitted up as the supper-room for the dancers at the ball and will be decorated in a gorgeous manner, a special feature being a fantastic arrangement of electric lights.

COL. WASHINGTON PROTESTS.

The Centennial Committee Did Not Publish a Full List of Descendants.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 16.—Col. L. Q. Washington, the well-known newspaper correspondent of this city, made public this morning about a column of matter which should interest the Centennial Committee.

The Colonel protests against the statement made by the Committee that the descendants of the great chieftain invited to participate in the celebration are " all the known living represen tatives of the families of George Washington and Martha Custis Washington."

'As a fule, with only one or two exceptions, the members of the Washington family have horse themselves quietly and modestly, oherishing, as was natural, their connection with the illustrious chief, but not parading their ancestry before the public, or seeking to attract notice or observation because of their lineage.

'It does not follow, however, that any of this class should be deliberately excluded from a published list purporting to be a full and complete enumeration of the Washington family.

'They could easily afford to be omitted from invitations to a grand pageant, but to be told by a committee of New York managers that they did not even belong to the Washington family is quite another matter. At this stage surely they cannot be bismed for making a protest."

A STAND FOR 3,500 PERSONS.

The Board of Aldermen Will Put Up One a the Forty-Second Street Reservoir.

The Commissioner of Public Works consent the Board of Aldermen to-day concluded to build a stand to accommodate 3,500 people against the wall of the distributing reservoir on Fifth avenue, between Fortieth and Forty-second streets, from which to view the Centennial parades of April 30 and May 1. A committee, consisting of ten members and the President of the Board, was appointed to secure the appropriation and attend to the disbursement of the $15,000 to be allowed the Board for the proper celebration of the great occasion.

Fire Luddles Want Money to Spend, Too. The Volunteer Firemen's Association is in rouble over the Centennial celebration now It will be called upon to entertain about thirty visiting companies, and is trying to get the Board of Estimate and Apportionment to make an appropriation of $1,000 to enable it to do so.

WOMEN AND MICE.

The reason why a woman is afraid of a mouse is a profound mystery—indeed, it has never been very closely proven that she is. But some women are constantly in such a nervous, irritable condition that the slightest thing amonys and startles thom. The cause of this unfortunate state of affairs is usually some functional derangement; some distressing or painful irregularity, some derangement or peculiar weakness incident to herea; or, it may be due to inflammation, ulceration or displacement, of some of the pelvic viscera, or to other organic lesions pseculiar to her sex. From whichever cause it may arise, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a positive remady, so certain in its curative results that its manufacturers sell it, through druggists, under a guarantee of its giving satisfaction in every case, or money paid for it will be promptly refluied. As a soothing and strengthening nervine, "Favorite Prescription" is unequised and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, Irritability, exhaustion, prostration, hysteria, spasms and other distressing, nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the womb. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

The Commissioner would neither deny or confirm the statement that he proposes to fight for a continuation in this fat berth.

He did say, however, that Tammany might not find it so fat as they imagine in the distribution of patronage, as most of the high-salaried officials in the Department are civil-service appointees and cannot be removed except after hearing on charges of malfeasance or incompetency.

The Chief Inspector said to an Evenino World reporter this morning:

"The statement by Assemblyman Sullivan that I caused the arrest of the barkeepers of his two saloons for a violation of the Suniay law is an infamous falsehood, as I did not know such arrests had been made until I read Mr. Sullivan's remarks to-day.

"The bill he objects to is intended for the protection of citizens and strangers during Centennial week, and why Assemblyman Sullivan should desire to pose as the special champion of pickpockets and thives I do not understand. I oply wish to arrest them and keep them out of harm's way until the excitement is over."

An interesting question has arisen out of Assemblyman Sullivan's statement that he holds two licenses. As the law permits only one license to any one person the Excise Commissioners will be asked to look into the matter.
